The Pink Locket

Created on the foundation that every woman has a PINK side to her, all of the jewelry designs by The Pink Locket are made by hand with a certain personality in mind. Women are always looking for different ways and unique concepts to change up their look. The Pink Locket designs and distributes jewelry pieces to reflect just that idea. Our mission is to provide women with accessories that fit their personality while adding a touch of culture to each piece.

The company started off by hosting a series of jewelry parties, which it continues to do today. After popular demand, The Pink Locket launched its online site thepinklocket.com in March 2008 and began selling its unique designs online. Coming soon The Pink Locket designs will be available in selected women's boutiques throughout the metro Atlanta area. The company currently operates out of its showroom in Douglasville, Georgia.
